Work with anyone, from anywhere on the industry's most complete business application platform featuring social, email, meetings, chat, docs and more.

There's an important transformation taking place, that impacts every person and organization. It unifies and leverages the collective knowledge, talents and capabilities of employees, customers and partners. It drives, generates and delivers more effective collaboration, engagement and productivity across the entire enterprise. And it's loaded with significant benefits, opportunities and challenges. It's the transformation to "Be Mobile Work Social".

Join IBM and Citent for an informative meet-up in Costa Mesa on November 16th to find out how we can help you transition to an effective Mobile / Social collaboration platform.

IBM SOCIAL COLLABORATION
